occupied to capacity and that the recruits there were restricted to quarters. The Andreas Hoferstrasse was blocked from sight by a board wall on 20 August. The entrance to the former court building was inside the restricted area. Numerous trucks were parked at the barracks installations west of the Schiesstattring, in addition to AT guns and mortars of an undetermined caliber. However, no tanks were seen there. Soviet troops bivouacked in tents in the municipal forest west of the railroad line. (2) Until 1 a.m. during the nights of 17 and 18 August, the noise of troops at combat practice was heard from the tank training site in the village of Witzendorf on the west perimeter of St. Poelten.

Kauer Oehling.

3. On 18 August, 27 EM wearing black-bordered red epaulets drilled under the supervision of an officer in the former provincial insane asylum. Twelve more soldiers, wearing an undetermined service color, stood near an artillery piece which was obviously an AT gun. Twenty-seven trucks and five van-like trucks [redacted] were parked at the installation. Trucks [redacted] left the billeting area, driven by soldiers with black-bordered red epaulets; each was occupied by 10 men who also wore black-bordered red epaulets. Truck [redacted] driven by a soldier with red-bordered black epaulets, was seen leaving the installation, loaded with ration boxes. [redacted] Comments.

- (1) According to previous reports, it was believed that the 150th Tank Regt of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div stationed at Camp Spratzern had left. The present report does not indicate whether the camp was reoccupied on 24 August 1951. All motor vehicles observed there belong to the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div, including those seen at the barracks installation on Am Schiesstattring. Neither previous nor the present information furnishes a clear picture on the occupation of Viehofen Castle. [redacted] [redacted] a component of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div is stationed there.

- (2) The barracks installations on Am Schiesstattring, including the Rainier Kaserne, cannot be seen from the outside and, therefore, no details or the actual occupation of these installations could be obtained.

- (3) Goepfritz residents stated that small units kept arriving and leaving during August 1951. [redacted]
